

Cornix – Privacy Policy

Last Updated: July 10th, 2022

1. Introduction

Cornix 10 LTD. (“Company” “we”, “our” or “us”), is committed to protecting the privacy of anyone who accesses, uses, or registers to our Services (defined below). We have published this Privacy Policy (“Policy”) to outline our practices with respect to collecting, using, and disclosing your information when you use our Services. We encourage you to read this Policy carefully and use it to make informed decisions.

Our Services may be connected by “hyperlinks” to other third-party’s sites. We are not responsible in any way for the privacy practices on other third-party’s sites and advise you to review the privacy policies on those linked sites before using them.

2. Our Services

To get a better sense on how and from whom we collect data, it is useful to start with a brief overview of our Services. The Company is the owner of a proprietary software service that allows its end users to create and configure multifaceted trades for execution on third-party online cryptocurrency exchanges by creating their own trading models or following signals from various third party group leaders through channels which are integrated or created within Company's software service provided on its Platform (collectively, “Services”).

By using Company’s Services, you agree to the collection and use of your personal information as described in this policy as well as to Company's Terms of Service. Any significant changes to this policy – will be posted on Company’s website <https://cornix.io/> (“Website”).

This Policy applies to the information we collect from any person using or interacting with our Services, as well as any person visiting our Website or our web interface (collectively, “Users”).

3. What Types of Data We Collect?

We collect two types of data from you: Personal Data (“Personal Data”) and non-Personal Data. Personal Data means any information which may potentially allow your identification with reasonable means (for example, email address or name). Non-Personal Data, by contrast, can be defined as any information that does not relate to an identified or identifiable natural person. This may include, for example, your aggregated usage information and technical information transmitted by your device (for example, the device you use, the type of browser and operating system your device uses, language preference, access time, etc.). This section sets out how and when we collect those types of data from you.

- 3.1. Contact Information. When you access our Services, we collect your username, first name, surname, country, Telegram ID and Discord account (including Discord ID and Discord username), as well as any contact information you make public using Telegram or Discord.
- 3.2. Transaction Information. Payments you make using our Services will typically be processed by the payment processor (e.g. PayPal, Coinpayments, etc.), and we will not collect or store your financial data (e.g. your credit card numbers or bank account details). We may still however receive your non-financial Personal Data related to your payment, such as your name, billing address, e-mail address and the items purchased, in order to fulfill your purchase and for our accounting purposes.
- 3.3. Exchange Information. When you continue with our onboarding process, you shall provide us with the details of your API keys and API secrets. Moreover, Company may collect from you additional details regarding your exchange and crypto investments, e.g. your portfolio size, cryptocurrencies allocation and availability.
- 3.4. Usage Information. When you use our Services, we collect certain data about your usage interaction with our Services. Such information may include geolocation data, clicks, pages viewed, channels membership, and other data which relates to your activity in the Services.
- 3.5. Technical Information. When you use our Services, we collect technical information about your device. Such information may include geolocation data, IP address, unique identifiers (e.g. MAC address and UUID), operating system, browsing history, language, mobile carrier, device information etc.
- 3.6. Communication Information. When you send us an email or contact us via the support in our Services, we collect the Personal Data you provide us. This may include your name, email address and any other information you choose to provide.

4. Tracking Technologies

When you visit or access our Services (for example when you visit our websites), we use (and authorize third parties to use) web beacons, cookies, pixels, scripts, tags and other technologies ("Tracking Technologies").

The Tracking Technologies allow us to automatically collect information about you and your online behavior, as well as your device (for example your computer or mobile device), for different purposes, such as in order to enhance your navigation on our Services, improve our Services' performance and customize your experience on our Services. We also use this information to collect statistics about the usage of our Services, perform analytics, deliver content which is tailored to your interests and administer services to our Users, advertisers, publishers, customers and partners. We also allow third parties to collect information about you through Tracking Technologies.

When you use or access our Services, we use the following categories of Tracking Technologies:

- (a) Strictly Necessary Tracking Technologies (e.g., Cookies) – these Tracking Technologies are automatically placed on your computer or device when you access our Services or take certain actions on our Mobile Application or Website. These Tracking Technologies are essential to enable you to navigate around and use the features of our Services. We do not need to obtain your consent in order to use these Tracking Technologies;
- (b) Tracking and Advertising Tracking Technologies (e.g., Pixels) – these Tracking Technologies collect information about your browsing habits in order to make advertising more relevant to you and your interests. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement as well as help measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. The Tracking Technologies remember the websites you visit and that information is shared with other parties such as advertisers or publishers. Publishers, advertisers, and third-party ad networks may also utilize Tracking Technologies or similar technologies to deliver ads and monitor the performance of such ads. The collection of information through Tracking Technologies by such third parties will be governed by their own privacy policies/cookies policies and principles, which the Company does not control;
- (c) Functionality Tracking Technologies – these Tracking Technologies allow our Services to remember choices you make and provide enhanced and personalized features. For example, these Tracking Technologies are used for authentication (to remember when you are logged-in) and support other features of our Services;
- (d) Performance Tracking Technologies – these Tracking Technologies collect information about your online activity (for example the duration of your visit on our Services), including behavioural data and content engagement metrics. These Tracking Technologies are used for analytics, research and to perform statistics (based on aggregated information).

How and by whom Tracking Technologies are stored on your device?

We store Tracking Technologies on your device when you visit or access our Services (for example, when you are visiting our Website) – these are called "First Party Tracking Technologies". In addition, Tracking Technologies are stored by other third parties (for example, our analytics service providers, business partners, and advertisers), who run content on our Services – these are called "Third Party Tracking Technologies". Both types of Tracking Technologies may be stored either for the duration of your visit on our Services or for repeat visits.

There are various ways in which you can manage and control your Tracking Technologies settings. You can change your preferences using our cookie settings tool (however, please note that this tool may only be available in certain jurisdictions). Other methods of managing your Tracking Technology preferences includes: changing your browser settings to send a "Do-Not-Track" signal. In such case, your browser will send us a special signal to stop tracking your activity; However, please note that certain features of the Website or may not work properly or effectively if you delete or disable cookies.

To learn more about how can manage your cookies, below is a list of useful links that can provide you with more information on how to manage your cookies:

7. With Whom We Share Your Data

We share your Personal Data as described below –

- Service providers: we share your information with service providers, such as analytics providers and advertisers, who help us provide you with our Services. These third parties may have access to your Personal Data so that they may perform these tasks on our behalf, but they are obligated to comply with this Privacy Policy and may not use your Personal Data for any other purpose.
- Advertising and marketing: we may share your information with our trusted partners to either provide you with tailored ads on our Services or on other third party websites or apps; or for the purpose of providing you with promotional materials we, or our trusted partner, believe may be of interest to you.
- Compliance with laws and law enforcement entities: we may disclose any data about you to government or law enforcement officials or private parties as we, in our sole discretion, believe necessary or appropriate to respond to claims and legal process (including but not limited to subpoenas), to protect our or a third party's property and rights, to protect the safety of the public or any person, or to prevent or stop any activity we may consider to be, or to pose a risk of being, illegal, unethical, inappropriate or legally actionable. We also may be required to disclose an individual's Personal Data in response to a lawful request by public authorities, including meeting national security or law enforcement requirements.
- Merger and acquisitions: we may share your data if we enter into a business transaction such as a merger, acquisition, reorganization, bankruptcy, or sale of some or all of our assets. Any party that acquires our assets as part of such a transaction may continue to use your data in accordance with the terms of this Policy.

8. Data Protection Rights

This section addresses the specific rights applying to residents of the EU or residents in other jurisdictions that afford the below rights.

8.1. Your Rights

You may request to:

1. Receive confirmation as to whether or not Personal Data concerning you is being processed, and access your stored Personal Data, together with supplementary information.
2. Receive a copy of Personal Data you directly volunteer to us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format.
3. Request rectification of your Personal Data that is in our control.
4. Request erasure of your Personal Data.
5. Object to the processing of Personal Data by us.

6. Request to restrict processing of your Personal Data by us.
7. Lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.

Please note that these rights are not absolute and may be subject to our own legitimate interests and regulatory requirements. Users outside the EU are welcome to contact us for any questions or requests at the details below.

8.2. Transfer of Data Outside the EU

Any information that we collect (including your Personal Data) may be stored and processed in various jurisdictions around the world, for the purposes detailed in this Privacy Policy. However, we will only transfer your data-to-data recipients (i) located in the European Economic Area (the “EEA”), (ii) non-EEA countries which have been approved by the European Commission as providing adequate level of data protection, or (iii) countries entered into legal agreements ensuring an adequate level of data protection.

9. How We Protect Your Data

We have implemented administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to help prevent unauthorized access, use, or disclosure of your Personal Data. While we seek to protect your information to ensure that it is kept confidential, we cannot guarantee the security of any information. You should be aware that there is always some risk involved in transmitting information over the internet and that there is also some risk that others could find a way to thwart our security systems. Therefore, we encourage you to exercise discretion regarding the Personal Data you choose to disclose.

10. Retention

We will retain your personal information for as long as necessary to operate our Website or provide Services. We will retain and use your information as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our policies. Retention periods shall be determined taking into account the type of information that is collected and the purpose for which it is collected for, bearing in mind the requirements applicable to the situation and the need to destroy outdated, unused information at the earliest reasonable time.

11. Minors

We do not knowingly collect or solicit Personal Data from anyone under the age of consent (as determined under the applicable laws where the individual resides; “Age of Consent”). By accessing, using or interacting with our Services, you certify to us that you are not under the Age of Consent.

In the event that we learn that we have collected Personal Data from an individual under the Age of Consent without verification of parental consent, we will delete that information upon discovery. If you believe that we might have any information from or about an individual under the Age of Consent, then please contact us through the contact details available below.

12. Updates to this Policy

We reserve the right to change this Policy at any time. The most current version will always be posted on our Website (as reflected in the “Last Updated” heading). You are advised to check for updates regularly. By continuing to access or use our Services after any revisions become effective, you agree to be bound by the updated Policy.

13. Further Information

If you have any further questions regarding the data collected, or how we use it, please contact us via support@cornix.io.
